LOUIS

Implementing an Emergency Curriculum Driven Acquisitions (CDA) funding cycle. This is intended to support any immediate needs for current courses and to support a faculty and students needing online access materials as they transition their course. These funds allow for the purchase of any currently in-use eTextbook and course-adopted eBook that is available via the GOBI platform. Submit any title request to ian.richardson@louisiana.edu

Wiley PLUS

Instructors without an adopted online learning solution, such as WileyPLUS, Knewton Alta or zyBooks, can receive free access for their students for the remainder of the Spring 2020 term. Instructors teaching at impacted institutions can request access to WileyPLUS or Knewton Alta. For current WileyPLUS and Knewton Alta instructors, Customer Success Specialists are equipped to provide additional support.

Cengage Unlimited

For faculty members utilizing Cengage products in their courses please refer your students to this new offering from Cengage Learning in response to the university moving to all online courses.

Students can go to the sign in page here:

<https://login.cengagebrain.com/cb/login.htm>

Cengage has stated the students might receive a pop up stating it is a 2-week free trial but Cengage is rolling out access in 2 week intervals so access will automatically be renewed after the trial period.
